

The Sanctity of living in the Divine Will has nothing prodigious on the outside.
Example of the Most Holy Virgin Mary.

The sanctity of living in my Will is more than sun.

A soul who is upright and fully ordered in my Will is more than an army in battle. (...)

There is the example of my Mama - true sanctity of the living in my Will.

Her interior was all eclipsed in the Eternal Sun of the Supreme Volition.

Having to be the Queen of the Sanctity of the Saints, the Mother and Bearer of my Life to all, and therefore of all goods,

She remained as though hidden within all, bringing good without making Herself recognized.

More than silent sun,

She brought light without speech, fire without clamor, good without exposing Herself.

There was no good which didn't not come from Her.

There was no miracle which didn't not come from Her.

By living in my Will,

- She lived hidden within all, and

- She was, and is, the origin of the goods of all.

She was so enraptured in God, so fixed and ordered in the Divine Will,

that Her whole interior swam in the sea of the Eternal Volition.

She was aware of the whole interior of all creatures.

And She would place Her own in order to reorder them before God.

It was precisely the interior of man, more than the outside,

to be in greater need of being redone and reordered. (...)

More than sun, She would pass unobserved and hidden in the cloud of light of the Divine Will. So much so, that the very Saints did apparently more sensational things than that my very Mama did. Yet, what are the greatest Saints before my Celestial Mama? They are just little stars compared to the great sun. And if they are illuminated, it is because of the sun.

But even though She did not do sensational things, She did not cease to be, also visibly, majestic and beautiful. She was all intent on that Eternal Will which, with great Love and violence, She charmed and enraptured in order to transport It from Heaven to earth.

All of Her interior was ordered in the Divine Will.

When She would think, palpitate, breathe, and everything She would do – these were all charming bonds in order to draw the Eternal Word upon earth.

And in fact She won, and she performed the greatest miracle, which no one else can do.

This is your task, my daughter: to charm Me, to bind Me so much

- with your interior all reordered in the Supreme Volition,

as to transport It from Heaven to earth,

- that It may be known and have life on earth as It does in Heaven.

Have no concern about anything else! (...)

“that My Will may be known and have life on earth as It does in Heaven.”
