

The soul who lives of the life of Jesus can say that her life is ended.

Finding myself in my usual state, my always and all lovable Jesus came and told me:

“My daughter,
everything you do for Me, even a breath, enters into Me as a pledge of your love for Me.
And I, in exchange, give you my pledges of love.

Therefore, the soul can say: ‘I live of the pledges that my beloved Jesus gives me’.”

Then He added:

“My beloved daughter,
since you live of my life, it can be said that your life is ended.
You no longer live.

So, since it is no longer you who lives, but I,
anything they do to you, pleasing or displeasing,
- I receive
as if it were done directly to Me.

And you can comprehend this from the fact that,
- whatever they do to you, whether pleasing or displeasing,
you do not feel anything.
This means that there must be someone else who feels that pleasure or displeasure
And who else could feel it if not Myself,
-who lives in you and loves you very, very much?”
